

MONTPELIER 7, SPAULDING 4

The Victors Landed on Cutler
Early in Game

AIDED BY POOR FIELDING

Montpelier Got Lead in First Few Innings Which Spaulding Boys Could Not Overcome—Nice Playing by Spaulding H. S. infield.

Reasons without number might be ascribed for Spaulding high school's defeat at the hands of Montpelier high yesterday afternoon at Inter-city park by a 7 to 4 score. Costly errors and ineffective twirling by the usually consistent Cutler were partly responsible for the outcome, but many who witnessed the game are inclined to believe that something besides the weird brand of refereeing exhibited at times by Umpire Buck might have brought about an even break or at least a harder earned victory for the winners. The local schoolboys outlast their opponents in nearly every inning, and men were placed as far as second in six innings. In fielding, however, Spaulding was sadly lacking at critical times, but the failure to perfectly field and deliver the balls was largely confined to the outfield. The infield presented a well-balanced combination that merited a victory. With better working outfield, long hits netting singles and two bases would have become put-outs. Williams at third and Stuart at shortstop accepted many chances in big league style, and a better throwing pair is seldom seen in intercollegiate baseball. Jackson at backstop, caught everything coming his way and also figured prominently in the hitting. Browne, in the right garden, broke the monotony of indifferent outfielding in the fifth by pulling down Laird's high fly with one hand.

Sherburne, Pape and Bartlett were the heavy swatters for Montpelier and cornered six of the nine hits credited to the winners. Pape pitched consistently and fanned nine men. Sherburne was the only shining light in the Montpelier diamond and he covered the ground to the left of second.

Three of Montpelier's scores came in the first inning. Sherburne slapped out a two-bagger after Smith had sent an easy grounder to third and had died at first. H. Laird followed Sherburne by flying out to center, but Pape got a life on Osgood's error, Sherburne scoring. Kenefick next booted Bartlett's ground hit and Pape covered the rubber for the second run. Baird followed with a single to right and Bartlett tallied. Gishorne grounded out to Stuart, retiring the side. With a run to the good in the third, Montpelier bunched three singles and a double and tallied four more scores. Hayden's sacrifice and a passed ball also aided in the run getting. After this disastrous round, the locals settled down, and kept their opponents from further circling of the sacks.

Fighting against a lead of three runs, Spaulding made a brave effort to even matters up in the third. Jackson led on with a safe one to right and stole his way to third. The next two men followed quickly by fanning and the chances of a score grew suddenly slim. Williams, however, drew a free pass and stole second. Pape then essayed the dip ball or something in that direction and presently the spheroid went sailing past the catcher, allowing Jackson a cheap score. Kenefick next clouted out a high fly to center, but Hayden muffed and Williams came in for the second run. Stuart retired the side by flying out to Bartlett.

A lone home little run in the fourth brought the fight to a hot end, and try as they might, the Spaulding willow-wielder could not push another tally over in the five remaining rounds. Troup lifted out a safe one into center and stole second, scoring a few minutes later when Cutler shoved another single into the same territory. The latter, however was caught at second. Hagan

The Cause of Many Sudden Deaths.

There is a disease prevailing in this country most dangerous because so deceptive in its progress. Many sudden deaths are caused by it—heart disease, pneumonia, heart failure or apoplexy are often the result of kidney disease. If kidney trouble is allowed to advance the kidney-poisoned blood will attack the vital organs, causing catarrh of the bladder, brick-dust or sediment in the urine, head ache, back ache, lame back, dizziness, sleeplessness, nervousness, or the kidneys themselves break down and waste away cell by cell.

Bladder troubles almost always result from a derangement of the kidneys and better health in that organ is obtained quickest by a proper treatment of the kidneys. Swamp-Root corrects inability to hold urine and scalding pain in passing it, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. A trial will convince anyone. Swamp-Root is pleasant to take and is sold by all druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar size bottles. You may have a sample bottle and a book that tells all about it, both sent free by mail. Address, Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y. When writing mention reading this generous offer in this paper. Don't make any mistake, but remember the name, Swamp-Root, and don't let a dealer sell you something in place of Swamp-Root—if you do you will be disappointed.

Knees Became Stiff

Five Years of Severe Rheumatism
The cure of Henry J. Goldstein, 14 Barton Street, Boston, Mass., is another victim of Hood's Sarsaparilla. This great medicine has succeeded in many cases where others have utterly failed. Mr. Goldstein says: "I suffered from rheumatism five years. It kept me from business and caused excruciating pain. My knees would become as stiff as steel. I tried many medicines without relief, then took Hood's Sarsaparilla, soon felt much better, and now consider myself entirely cured. I recommend Hood's." EASY FOR VERMONT.

Defeated Norwich University, 11 to 4.
By Hard Hitting.
Burlington, May 18.—The University of Vermont defeated Norwich yesterday afternoon by the score of 11 to 4, butting both Berry and Parkman savagely, while Winkler, the Vermont twirler, kept the hits well scattered. The game was witnessed by a large crowd, over two hundred coming from Northfield by special train. Vermont knocked Berry out of the box, getting seven hits off him in and landing eight safeties off Parkman. With the exception of the fourth inning, the visitors were powerless before Winkler.

TO AMEND SHERMAN ACT.

Decision Confirms Opinion That Term Restraint of Trade is Vague.

Washington, May 18.—Senator Albert B. Cummins of Iowa said yesterday that the decision of the United States supreme court in the Standard Oil case confirmed an opinion he has long held that the phrase "in restraint of trade" in the first section of the Sherman anti-trust act is so vague and indefinite as to mar the efficacy of the law. He will, he says, seek to perfect the law by the introduction of a bill intended to clarify the first section by defining as clearly as possible what "in restraint of trade" means. Senator Cummins would frame the proposed revision with a view to enforcing, as far as possible, real competitive conditions. Senator Cummins is a leading progressive, a member of the judiciary committee and recognized as one of the ablest lawyers of the Senate, hence any bill of this character introduced by him under present conditions in the Senate would attract unusual attention.

DRAFT OF PEACE PACT

Submitted by Secretary Knox to Ambassadors

FRANCE ALSO INCLUDED

Document Provides That All Differences Which Are Internationally Justifiable Shall Be Submitted to Arbitration.

Washington, May 18.—The principle of arbitration between nations over questions of vital interest and national honor was summed vitally yesterday when Secretary of State Knox submitted to the British and French ambassadors at Washington the draft of a convention to serve as a basis of negotiations. The fact that this world movement would be inaugurated with France as well as Great Britain came as a great surprise, as it was generally understood that only the United States and England were concerned in the initial steps.

When President Taft last December enunciated the doctrine of comprehensive arbitration, he received a quick response from Ambassadors Bryce and Jusserand that Great Britain and France were willing to begin negotiations with this country for the peaceful settlement of all differences that may arise. The president instructed Secretary Knox to crystallize the arbitral position which this government would offer to foreign nations.

The secretary has evolved a document, which has received the approval of the president and the other members of his cabinet, providing that all differences that are internationally justifiable shall be submitted to arbitration. It expands the scope of the existing arbitral treaties by eliminating the exceptions referring to "questions of vital interest and national honor." This elimination is the real accomplishment of the proposed treaty. The exceptions mentioned are found in arbitration treaties the world over and have constituted the chief obstacle to the application of the arbitration principle, for it is hard to conceive of a problem which its essential diplomatic character is regarded as having a controlling bearing upon "national honor" or "vital interest."

Recognizing that there may be questions of policy and other matters likely to force nations to the brink of war but which no people would be willing to arbitrate, the tentative draft of the treaty provides that differences that either party considers within the category shall be referred to a committee of inquiry empowered to make recommendations for their settlement. The treaty will bind the disputants to arbitration in case the commission of inquiry declares that the controversy shall be arbitrated.

Arbitration in all cases will be a last resort. After the two countries have concluded that it is impossible to settle a dispute through diplomatic interchange, the question will be submitted to a commission of inquiry charged with the duty of suggesting a way to avoid arbitration if possible.

The United States will not be asked to relinquish its right to pass upon the question of arbitrating each dispute. All agreements to arbitrate will be entered into with the advice and consent of the Senate as under existing conventions.

The tentative draft of the proposed treaty was described by Secretary Knox yesterday in the following official statement, which he said was as specific as it could be made at the present time: "The general features of the draft are these: It expands the scope of our existing general arbitration agreements by eliminating the exceptions contained in existing ones of questions of vital interest and national honor."

It is proposed that all differences that are internationally justifiable shall be submitted to The Hague tribunal, unless by special agreement some other tribunal is created or selected.

"It provides that differences that either country thinks are not internationally justifiable shall be referred to a commission of inquiry with power to make recommendations for their settlement. This commission to be made up of nationals of the two governments who are members of The Hague court."

"Should the commission decide that the difference should be arbitrated this decision is to be binding."

"Arbitrations are to be conducted under terms of submission of subject to the advice and consent of the Senate."

"Before arbitration is resorted to even in cases where both countries agree that the difference is one susceptible of arbitral decision, the commission of inquiry shall investigate the difference with a view of recommending a settlement that will preclude the necessity of arbitration."

"The other features of the draft deal mainly with the machinery of the commission and other essential details."

The submission of the drafts to Great Britain and France marks the actual beginning of negotiations. It is the desire of the administration to complete the negotiations as possible in time for submission to the Senate before the adjournment of the present session of Congress.

WHAT CURES ECZEMA?

We have had so many inquiries lately regarding eczema and other skin diseases, that we are glad to make our answer public. After careful investigation we have found that a simple wash of Oil of Wintergreen, as compounded in D. D. D., can be relied upon. We would not make this statement to our patrons, friends and neighbors unless we were sure of it—and although there are many so-called eczema remedies sold, we ourselves, unhesitatingly recommend D. D. D. Prescription.

Because we know that it gives instant relief to that torturing itch.

Because—D. D. D. starts the cure at the foundation of the trouble.

Because—It cleanses, soothes and heals the skin, clearing away pimples and blotches over night.

Because it enables nature to repair the ravages of disease.

Because—The records of ten years of complete cures of thousands of the most serious cases show that D. D. D. is today recognized as the absolutely reliable eczema cure.

Drop into our store to-day, just to talk over the merits of this wonderful prescription. We will also explain the value of D. D. D. as a household remedy. Burt H. Wells, 180 North Main street, Barre, Vt.

DEMOCRATIC SQUABBLE ENDS PEACEFULLY

Get Together at End of the Day and Name Committee to Investigate Sugar Trust.

Washington, May 18.—After a full day's fight over the proposal to elect the sugar trust investigating committee nominated by Chairman Henry of the rules committee, the Democrats of the House came together late yesterday afternoon and elected the following committee without dissent.

Representatives Hardwell, Georgia; chairman; Garrett, Tennessee; Sulzer, New York; Jacobway, Arkansas; Baker, California; Mahy, Kansas; Hinds, Maine.

The union of Democratic forces came after conciliating words that been spoken by many of those who attacked Mr. Henry and his resolution Tuesday and after Democratic leaders Underwood had urged the election of the committee named by Mr. Henry. Mr. Underwood said he considered it a waste of time for the House to stop its proceedings whenever a special committee was to be named, to caucus and select hat committee.

He said it was apparent that the Democratic sentiment favored a caucus in the future for the selection of any important committee, but that he believed the House should approve the sugar trust committee now presented, as it had approved the list of names presented by Mr. Henry as a committee for the investigation of the steel trust.

The resolution for an investigation of the American Sugar Refining company was passed last week. Representative Olmsted of Pennsylvania, who was elected Tuesday to the special committee to investigate the United States Steel corporation, resigned yesterday, stating that one of the companies whose affairs were to be investigated was located in his district, and he preferred not to serve on the committee.

BOGART PLEADS GUILTY.

Vice President of United Wireless Company Changes Plea.

New York, May 18.—Samuel S. Bogart, vice president of the United Wireless Telegraph company, and one of the six officers of the concern indicted for misuse of the mails, pleaded guilty yesterday. The motion for a change of plea was made by his counsel, former District Attorney Jerome, at the close of the morning session of the trial and promptly allowed.

Senators will not be imposed while the other defendants are on trial. They include Colonel C. C. Wilson, president of the company, charged with sending out literature representing that the corporation was making money, when in reality the contention is, it was losing. When the case opened yesterday morning, John B. Standfield, counsel for the defense, asked the court to direct the jury to disregard published rumors that Bogart intended to plead guilty.

Mrs. Lillian B. Chase of Bangor, Me., testified yesterday regarding the methods used to induce her to buy twenty shares of the company's stock at $15 a share.

NEW BOMB OUTRAGE.

Explosion in Heart of New York Hotel District.

New York, May 18.—The heart of the hotel district had another early morning bomb explosion yesterday. The explosion occurred in front of a house in West 44th street, near Broadway and shattered a few windows without hurting anybody but it caused such consternation among the sleepers in the big hotels that cluster in this neighborhood that the police reserves were called out to quiet the excitement.

The bomb witnesses say, was placed in position by two men who drove away in a taxicab ten minutes before the explosion.

The police recall three other recent bomb explosions, due they say, to jealousy between rival gamblers, and are trying to trace yesterday's outrage to a similar cause.

FOR THE THIN AND SCRAWNY

Samose Will Make You Plump and Rosy, Says D. F. Davis.

If you are getting thin, if you are sick, although you may not know it, if you are losing weight steadily, there is something wrong that needs looking after. If you have always been thin it doesn't follow that you are sick, but you may not be healthy. You cannot be strong if you are thin.

Try then to be healthy and plump; it is not difficult, if you know how. Fatness, happiness and health, they all go together. How seldom you see a fat person who is not happy. On the other hand, thin people are unhappy and nervous. Use Samose and be well and fat and happy.

Weigh yourself before you begin using Samose. It will not cost you a cent unless it increases your weight and restores your health.

PRESIDENT RAPS CLUBS

Expresses Contempt For the "Small-Headed" Men

WHO BLACKBALL BETTERS

Hits Union League and Metropolitan—Former Had Rejected Loeb and Later the Congressman—Gen. Edwards Resigns as Governor.

Washington, May 18.—President Taft took a fall out of the Metropolitan club of this city for blackballing Representative Martin Littleton, and the Union League club for doing the same thing to William Loeb, in a spirited speech here Tuesday night before the Buai Brith lodge.

While he did not refer specifically to these organizations, everybody knew that the executive was talking about them. He referred to the people who snub men of importance in the community by means of a blackball as "small-headed" and "small-brained" and "unworthy to button the shoes of those they insult."

It was learned yesterday morning, too, that Gen. Clarence Edwards of the army, who was a member of the board of governors of the Metropolitan club, had resigned and had done it ostensibly because of the action toward Mr. Littleton. This was followed by the announcement that Lieutenant Colonel Charles L. McQuay of the Marine corps, formerly a White House aide, and Captain T. M. Potts of the navy had resigned their official positions with the Metropolitan club.

In his speech last Tuesday night, the President said:

"I believe and I am proud of the fact that the Jews in America enjoy an equality that they have in only a few other countries of the world. I don't mean to say that there are not social prejudices here."

"I don't mean to say that there are not social clubs and other places where the small-headed men who occasionally get into a directory manifest their greatness by using a black ball and shutting out men of importance in this community, but while it is aggravating and exasperating, still it is not the worst thing that could happen."

"I have had it happen to friends of mine—Gentlemen—who have been kept out of clubs by people who are not worthy to button their shoes and who have no standing save in clubs."

"It is aggravating, I agree, but a man is what he is by reason of his respect for himself, and if he knows that some one who affects to snub him and look down upon him is not worthy and is not his equal, and if he cultivates any of the philosophy that he ought to call to his aid, he will have the advantage over his small-brained and narrow-minded critics always."

RESULTS WITH TILE DRAINS.

How Expense May Be Saved in the Digging and Grading.

Our drainage operations for 1911 began April 11, with a force of 11 men, wrote H. E. Cox to the editors of The Country Gentleman. The fields have been so wet and soft this April that the machine cannot yet be used to advantage; so the work is going on by hand labor. Three carloads of tiles were drawn to the farms during the winter, so there will be no delay. The drains are laid as soon as the digging and grading is done, because if left even a short time when the ground is so saturated with water, they often slide in, causing double work, and even then the job is not as well done. One good, deep furrow is opened with a plow. This dispenses with using a line and reduces the expense of digging. Connecting with drains that have been installed a number of years. I find these are working clear and steady.

I noticed the flow of water from one outlet did not run a steady stream, but pulsed. I had never noticed a drain acting in this way before, and do not now know the cause for it. The surface of the ground where drainage has been done is drying fast. To-day the lines of drains could be easily traced by the dry strips, and one could drive all over such a field and trot right along while on those fields and parts of fields that had not yet been drained, it was not safe to drive at all. We always drain the wettest parts first. The transformation in these wet and marshy fields is so wonderful, both in appearance, earliness, ease of working and in crop results, that the subject of farm drainage should be kept prominently before the cultivators of the soil.

The delay in getting at this most important work is often caused by lack of means and also of time; but if we will stop and consider a moment we shall see that we are, in doing the work only using the time and money that are generally wasted in attempting to work land late and when it is unfit, at an unnecessary expense of wear and tear on implements and teams wasting good seed and getting poor returns when it would be economy to omit the cropping of that field one year, borrow the money if necessary, with the positive assurance that the increased crop returns plus the lessened expense of preparation for the crop, will return the whole amount in two years at the longest; and we have one field that never returns the first year to double the expense of the drainage. This expense stops at the completion of the drainage, but the benefits continue and increase.

I have yet to see a piece of land which has lain waste and neglected because of its wet condition that did not prove wonderfully productive after proper drainage. Many hundreds of acres of land in this country are giving meager returns to the tenant or owner as the case may be, when they could by proper management be easily made the most productive, for the means to do the work are right there in the soil. A small farm in this township had been held in the same family for a long term of years. The whole acreage needed drainage, the flat part by the swamp especially. The general appearance of the place, buildings and the fences indicated what the returns from the farm had been. This property changed owners, and I was given charge of the drainage work. The soil was good loam, with a porous subsoil. There was soil-cient fall for successful drainage. The work was done in October, when well-behaved land should be dry, but there was water running in nearly every long ago. Many owners of such lands have passed from the scene of this world's activities to the quiet beyond, leaving to their posterity wealth, the unaware. My idea of progressive farming is drainage, fertilization, thorough preparation and cultivation, careful selection of seed, and good management all through.

This spring, for the first time in the history of that farm, that late wet flat land is the driest on the place, and as one stands at the outlet and takes note of the large quantity of water discharging, as it has been al-
